

KEITH CLAY

Department of Biology Program Affiliation: EEB

Research Area: Species interactions, community ecology, conservation, disease, symbiosis

DEGREES

- 1977 B.S., Botany, Rutgers College
1982 Ph.D., Botany, Duke University

APPOINTMENTS

- 1977-78 Teaching Assistant, Duke University
1981 Teaching Assistant, Duke University
1982-83 Postdoctoral Associate, University of Texas
1983-86 Assistant Professor, Louisiana State University
1986-91 Assistant Professor, Department of Biology
1991-96 Associate Professor, Department of Biology
1996- Professor, Department of Biology
2002- Director, IU Research and Teaching Preserve

FELLOWSHIPS AND AWARDS

- 1977 Highest Honors in Botany, Rutgers College
Phi Beta Kappa, Rutgers College
1978-81 NSF Graduate Fellowship
1983 Sigma Xi
1989 Outstanding Young Faculty Award, IU
1999 Teaching Excellence Recognition Award (TERA)
2003 A. R. Wallace – R. E. Franklin Medal, Dept. of Biology, IU
2005 Fellow, American Association for the Advancement of Science